We're holding your 2024 tax refund.

Our records show you still haven't filed your 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023 Forms 1040. We believe you'll owe more tax for 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023. We're holding your 2024 refund until we hear from you.

What you need to do now

File your 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023 tax returns and any supporting forms and schedules by May 29, 2025. You have three options for filing your returns:

What happens next?

Once you file your 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023 tax returns or provide an explanation showing you didn't have to file, we'll determine if you owe more taxes.

If we determine you owe tax or other debts we're required to collect, we may apply all or part of your refund to the amount you owe. We'll send:

- A notice explaining how we applied your refund.
- A check for the remaining refund (if there is one).

If we don't hear from you by May 29, 2025:

- We'll continue to hold your 2024 refund.
- We may determine your tax based on third party information.
